Graduation Ceremony

May 13, 2006
Convocation Hall

The graduation lists shown in this program were prepared prior to Graduation and may not reflect final college decisions regarding each student's eligibility for graduation. As a result, some of the students listed in this program may not have been formally approved to receive the certificate indicated. The Registrar maintains the official list of graduates.

Message from the President

PRESIDENT PETER MacKINNON

A sincere and warm welcome to graduates, families and friends who join us today to celebrate this significant event.

Graduations are the University's most important ceremonies. It is during these ceremonies that we celebrate the accomplishments of our students and the contributions of their loved ones to their success. You should feel proud of this day and of the commitment and sacrifice that it represents.

The University of Saskatchewan salutes you, the graduates of our certificate programs, and extends its very best wishes for the future.

Some of you are employees of the University of Saskatchewan and will therefore continue to be in touch with us. Many of you are residents of Saskatoon and the nearby community and although it isn't quite as convenient for you to stay in touch with us, I hope that you do. It is my wish that each and every one of you—from near and far—continue to stay associated to our University of Saskatchewan alumni family, and that we will have the opportunity to welcome you back to campus many times in the years ahead.

Warmest congratulations!

The Chancellor

W. THOMAS MOLLOY
O.C., Q.C., B.A., LL.B.

Mr. Molloy was born and raised in Saskatoon and is a University of Saskatchewan graduate (B.A., LL.B., 1964). He has practised law in Saskatoon since graduation and is with the firm MacPherson Leslie & Tyerman. Mr. Molloy has represented the Government of Canada as the Chief Federal Negotiator in the successfully concluded treaties in Nunavut and with the Nisga'a in British Columbia and for an Agreement in Principle with the Sechelt Indian Band. He presently represents Canada in treaty negotiations in British Columbia, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Nunavut, and has been described as "Canada's most expert treaty negotiator."

Mr. Molloy is author of The World is our Witness: The Historic Journey of the Nisga'a into Canada, which was awarded two Saskatchewan Book Awards, The Brenda MacDonald Riches First Book Award and the Non-fiction Award, sponsored by the University of Saskatchewan. Mr. Molloy has also been recognized for his work in the community, receiving the City of Saskatoon Certificate of Distinguished Community Service, Rotary Golden Wheels Award for Excellence, Saskatoon B'nai B'rith "Proud of You Award," and the Head of the Public Service Award for Excellence in Service Delivery.

In 1996, he was made an officer of the Order of Canada, and in 2000, the U of S Alumni Association awarded him the 2000 Alumni Honour Award. In 2001, The Canadian Bar Association Saskatchewan Branch honored him with its Distinguished Service Award.

Mr. Molloy was elected Chancellor of the University July 1, 2001.

History of the University of Saskatchewan

College Building Construction - November, 1911

The University of Saskatchewan was established on April 3, 1907, only 18 months after Saskatchewan became a province.

The people of the province were instrumental in shaping the new University. The provincial government requested all residents who were graduates of a Canadian or British university to form the first Convocation and elect the University's Senate. The Senate, in turn, elected five members to the first Board of Governors, while the province appointed three. In 1908, the Board selected Professor Walter Charles Murray as the first President.

Classes in Arts and Science began in September, 1909, in downtown Saskatoon. Construction of the campus began in 1910 and the first buildings were occupied in the fall of 1912. They included the College Building (Administration Building), Saskatchewan Hall (a student residence), residences for the Dean of Agriculture and the President, a laboratory for Engineering and a number of farm buildings.

From the beginning, the University established an emphasis on research and teaching in a context of community service, and encouraged co-operation among departments and divisions in tackling common problems. The development of rust-resistant strains of wheat, for example, initiated by the University and federal and provincial research agencies, has been of untold value to the prairie economy.

The University of Saskatchewan overlooks the South Saskatchewan River from a 755 hectare site. Most early buildings on campus are Collegiate Gothic in style and are constructed in a local dolomite, popularly known as greystone.
